Text 1

I did lots of personal research on various health topics. I read books and newspapers and I consulted several public libraries. I did document my work in short articles and this gave birth to Health Longevity Magazine. As a result of this research I came up with a rock solid conviction: we need to maintain life with life and we must support our system with natural supplements. It is an insurance policy against the deterioration of our body cells occurring daily with the effect of time. It's certainly not a guarantee of endless health and youth, but it is an additional help to fight the impact of the aging process and a boost for enhanced health and longevity.

According to the author, all of the following can be the results of keeping life with life EXCEPT _____.

- unlimited good health and excellent physical condition ☐
- protection against worsening of the cells in our bodies ☐
- neutralizing the effects of the process of aging ☐
- long life together with improved health ☐

Visit schools anywhere in the world, and you will probably note a number of similarities. There are students, teachers, books, blackboards, and exams everywhere. However, a school system in one country is not identical to the system in any other country. It can't be exactly the same because each culture is different from another one. The educational system is a mirror that reflects the culture.

It is clear that each educational system is a reflection of the larger culture: its economy, values, social structure, and problems. Look at countries schools, and you will learn about the societies in which they exist.
